England's Automobile Trade Falls Off-Japano-Russ War Causes Price Grain to Rise.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.) WASHINGTON, D. C., May 7 .- According to a bulletin issued by the Chamber of Commerce of Cadiz, the production of cork in Spain last year is estimated at 28,450,716 pounds, and that of Portugal at 32,515.104 pounds. Algeria and other cork-producing countries together furnished 20,821,940, making the total cork production of the world last year reach the enormous amount of 81,-287,760. It is hard to conceive of a pile sof cork weighing over four thousand tons.

ENGLAND'S DECREASE IN AUTO TRADE.

England is becoming alarmed at the decrease of the automobile trade in that codntry, or rather at the decreased sales of the product of home factories. According to United States Consul Mahin, at Mottingham, imports very much overbalance exports. In January, for instance, 325 automobiles were imported and only 55 exported. However, 78 motor bleycles were exported, against 51 imported in that month. But in parts of motor cycles, the imports exceeded the exports nearly fourfold. The exceeds was still greater in the imports of parts of automobiles, being fivefold the exports. In fact, there are really no all-Brilishmade automobiles. Those turned out here contain parts imported from the United States and the continent. France has a long load in the making of automobiles. JAPANO-RUSS WAR CAUSES GRAIN

TO RISE.

Consul Mahin also reports that the Japano-Russ war has caused a rise all along the line in the price of food grains. This has revived the discussion regarding the establishment of national granaries to the country.

This has revived the discassion regarding the establishment of national granaries in the country.

It is considered a very serious matter that cereals should be immediately advanced in price by a war in which Great Britan is not concerned, especially as indicative of the disastrous results that would follow should that country become involved in the present war. Last April a royal commission was appointed to consider this very problem, but it has not yet reported, and no report is expected till about July nost. The Imports of both wheat and flour for the six months ending with February, 1904, show large increases in comparison with the corresponding months of 1902-3, amounting in the aggregate to 30 per cent. Imports of other graips also increased, but in a less degree. These increases intensify the serious nature of the problem just referred to.

APPLES.

Very few but American apples are now seen in the English markets. The local crop was ruined in the just two years by late spring frosts and bad weather in the summer. The imports in January pad February, 1901, aggregated 684.619 cwt. (76.59,688 pounds), more than double of 1902 and one-fourth more than the the quantity imported in the same months imports of the first two months of 1903. imports of the first two months of 1903.
PRUSSIAN RAILWAY EARNINGS.

PRUSSIAN RAILWAY EARNINGS.
Consul-General Guenther, quoted above, also gives some interesting figures regarding the earnings of Prussian railways. During the twenty-five years of the existence of the State railway system of Prussia, the gross earnings increased from $41,000,000 to $331,000,000; the operating expenses from $24,500,000 to $221,000,000, and the net earnings from $14,500,000 to $240,000,000 per year. The mileage increased from $3.85 miles to 21.104 miles. The capital invested yields 7 per cent, according to the official statements, against 4.5 per cent, twenty-five years ago. It is, however, claimed that in reality the profit is from 19 to 12 per cent. The number of railroad officials, employes and workmen is $65,000.

UNITED STATES BUYS HER CURRANTS FROM GREECE

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)
WASHINGTON. D. C., May 7.—Ministry John B. Jackson, Athens, reports that 265,000,000 pounds of currants were shipped from Greece in 1993, Of this amount the United States took 20,000,000 pounds, and England was the best cuspounds, and England was the best cus-tomer, having bought 115,00,000 pounds. The share of the United States increased slightly, and she is now Greece's second best customer in the sale of currants, it seems that there was an attempt made some time ago to obtain a monopoly of all the currants raised in Greece, but it fulled.

BOSTOCK'S BOXING KANGAROO IS DEAD

And the Great Showman Wants the Railway to Pay Fifty Thousand.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

which the Philadelphia and Reading Rall-way Company and Frank Bostock, a noted animal trainer, do not agree. The animal, with several members of the Bos-tock Company, was injured in a col-lision on the Reading, near Allentown, on September 13th last.

Four inches of its tall was cut off, and the animal died soon afterward. Bostock contends that its death was due to these injuries, and he asks $50,-600 damages. This amount, he says, will barely cover the admission fees paid in one year to witness the per-formances of 'one of the most mar-velously intellectual animals ever brought pald in one year to witness the performances of "one of the most marvelously intellectual animals ever brought from the wilds of Australia."

The Reading Company has offered to compromise at a figure much less than the amount asked, but Bostock insists that $12.560 an inch is only a fair claim. He says he will take the matter into court unless the company agrees to his terms.

Captain Carly Wilson, one of Bostock's trainers, sought $50,000 damages for his wife, Dora B., a snake charmer, who was replously injured in the collision, and $10,000 for himself. The matter was to have teen brought before Judge Willson yesterday, but the trainer said that the Reading Company offered to settle outside of court, and that he accepted its terms—a good round sum. Wilson left with the Bostock show last night for Concy Island. His wife is there now training snakes. training snakes.

DANVII.LE, VA., May 7.—United States
Deputy Marshal J. Stanley Oliver and Internal Revenue Collector J. M. Coffman engaged in a duel with plstols last, night with John Brandon, colored, accused of retailing liquor without license. Brandon armed himself with a gun and pistol and defied the officers. Coffman opened fire on the negro, who retreated into the house, and eventually made his escape by jumping from a rear window. Oliver was unarmed. He ran around the corner of the house for the purpose of intercepting the negro, but was too late. Coffman fired a parting shot at the fleeling man from the window, wounding him. Nelther of the officers were struck. Internal Revenue Collector J. M. Coff-

The Negro in Science' was the subject of the address delivered by Bishop Turner. He took up every phase of the negro question in this country. He said that this was not the negro's home, but on the contrary, that God had allowed the negro to come here to be enslaved, in order that he could be trained and go back to his native land and make it what it rhould be. In concluding his address, the bishop said;

"The Supreme Court of the United States is against us. We have good friends in this country, yet they are comparatively few, and the only thing left for us to do is to leave. Let us be men, let us go where we can be men. The negro is here, some declare that he is here to stay, but I doubt that very much, unless he is to stay under the ground."

many years was associated with Dr. Cocke in educational work. Dr. Kusian called attention to the three wishes and hopes which he had for every young woman who came to Hollins. I. That her name might be written in the Lamb's book of life. 2. That she might attain unto a noble womanhood. 3. That her aim should be true scholarship.

Dr. Cocke believed in high standards in education, and as an evidence of the degree to which Hollins had ever clung to such standards he said that out of some 8,000 students who had been here only 120 had received the highest degree in the gift of the school. Dr. Cocke was essentially a religious and spiritually-minded man, and was thoroughly informed on religious and theological questions than any layman Dr. Kusian had ever known.

Mr. Milo Frank Hudnall, one of the oldest and most highly esteemed citizens and fraternal order leaders of Richmond, died yesterday morning at 7:30 o'clock, at his county home, in River View, after an liness of four months. He was in the seventy-third year of his ago.

Mr. Hudnall had been a sufferer for the past five years from heart trouble, and during the past twelve months the disease developed very fast, becoming more severe as time passed. He, how-eevr, continued at his business until January 25th last, when his remarkable energy and vitality began to wane; and he was confined to his house and bed from that time to his death. During the early part of April he rallied sufficlently to walk around, and upon the first opportunity and when he thought his strength would permit it, ventured down to his business, only to immediately return to his home and to his death bed. DECLARES WHITE LEAD IS POISONOUS

French Government Investigates and Condemns Its Use in Paints.

in Paints,

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., May 7.—The most generally used color in painting houses is white, indeed is the basis of this color in almost every case. But, according to a commission appointed by the French government to investigate the assertion that white lead is poisonous to the inmates of houses so painted, its use should absolutely cease and zinc white should be used instead. Richard Guenther, consul-general at Frankfort, Germany, in a report to the Department of Commerce and Labor says that M.
Breton, one of a committee of the French
Chamber of Deputies appointed to investigate the matter, publishes the resuit of the investigation, and condemns the addition of white lead to all paints, ife declares them to be poisonous to a large degree, both for the painters and the inhabitants of the house so painted.
M. Breton recommends the use of zinc white instead, which, for surfaces exposed to the sea air, is also much more durable. He expresses the opinion that the absolute disuse of white lead has become an imperative necessity.
